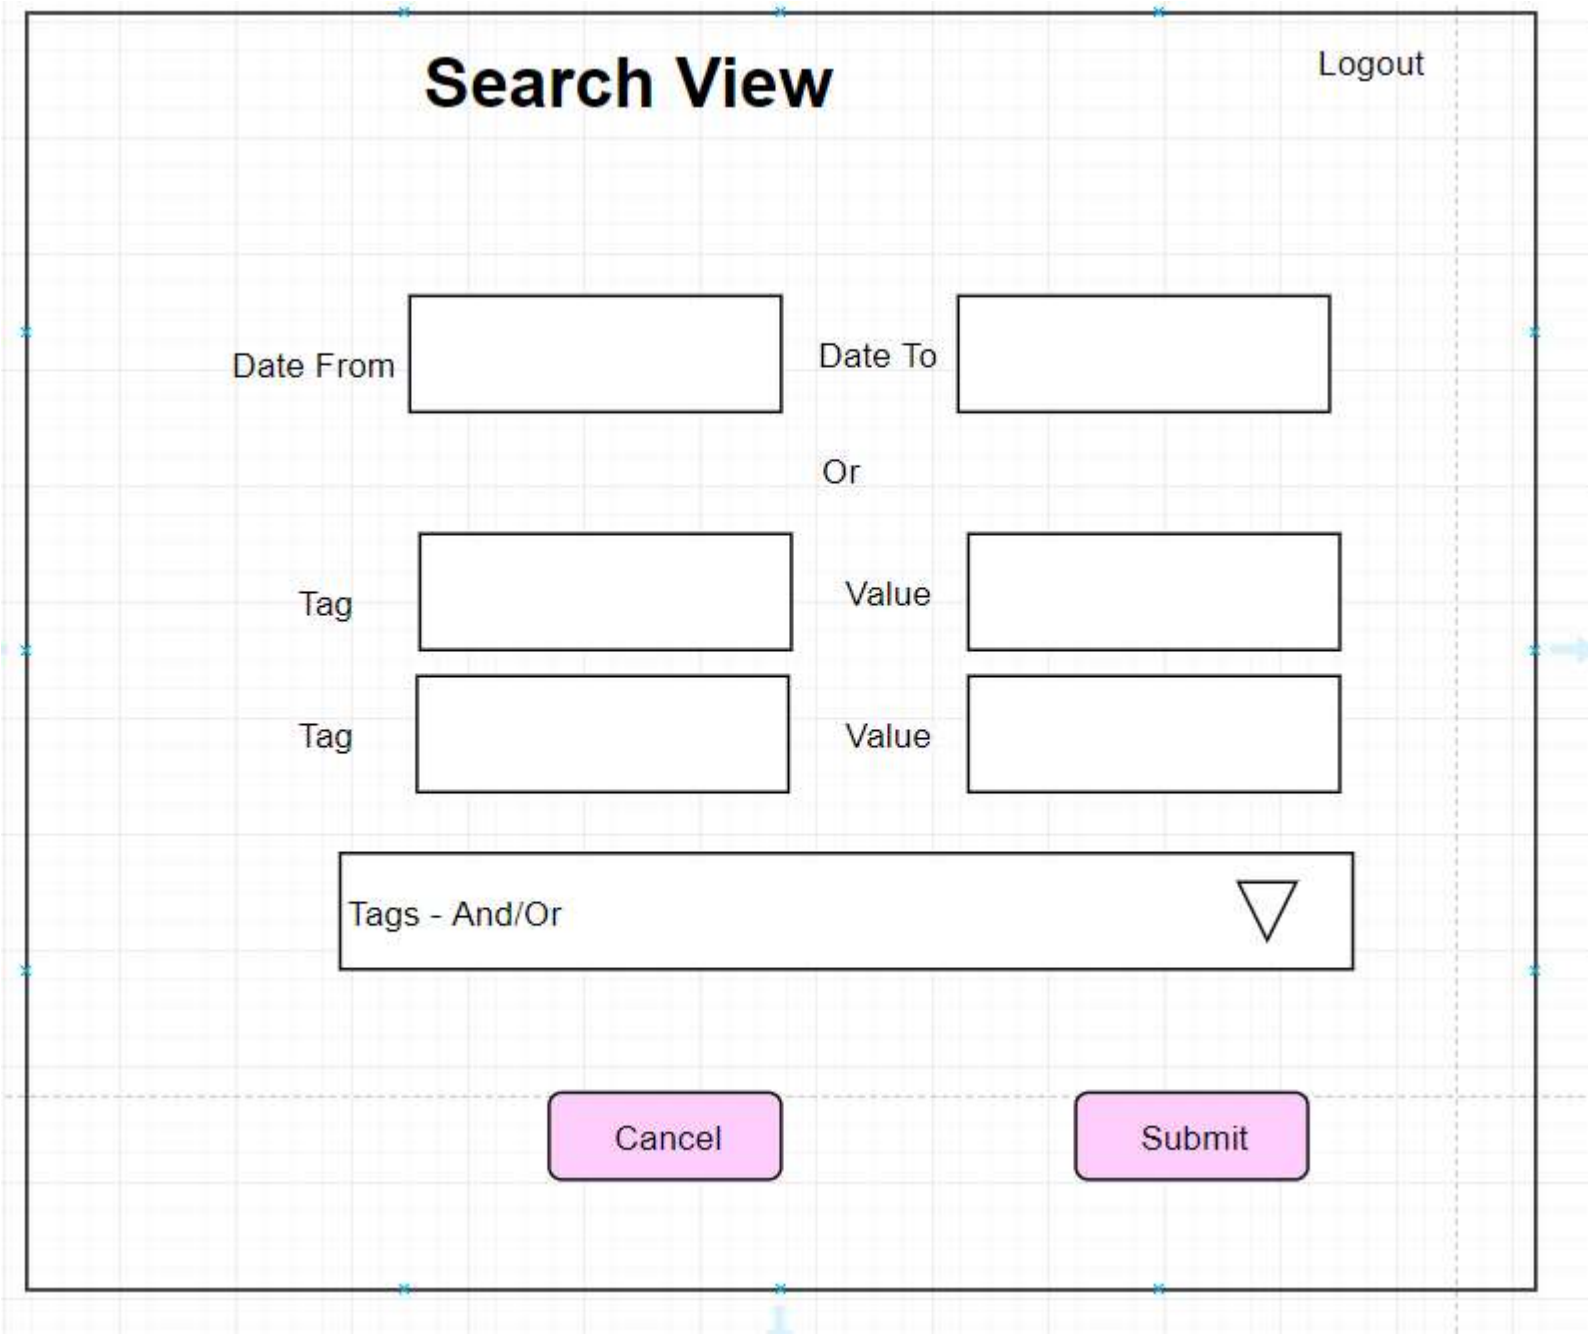
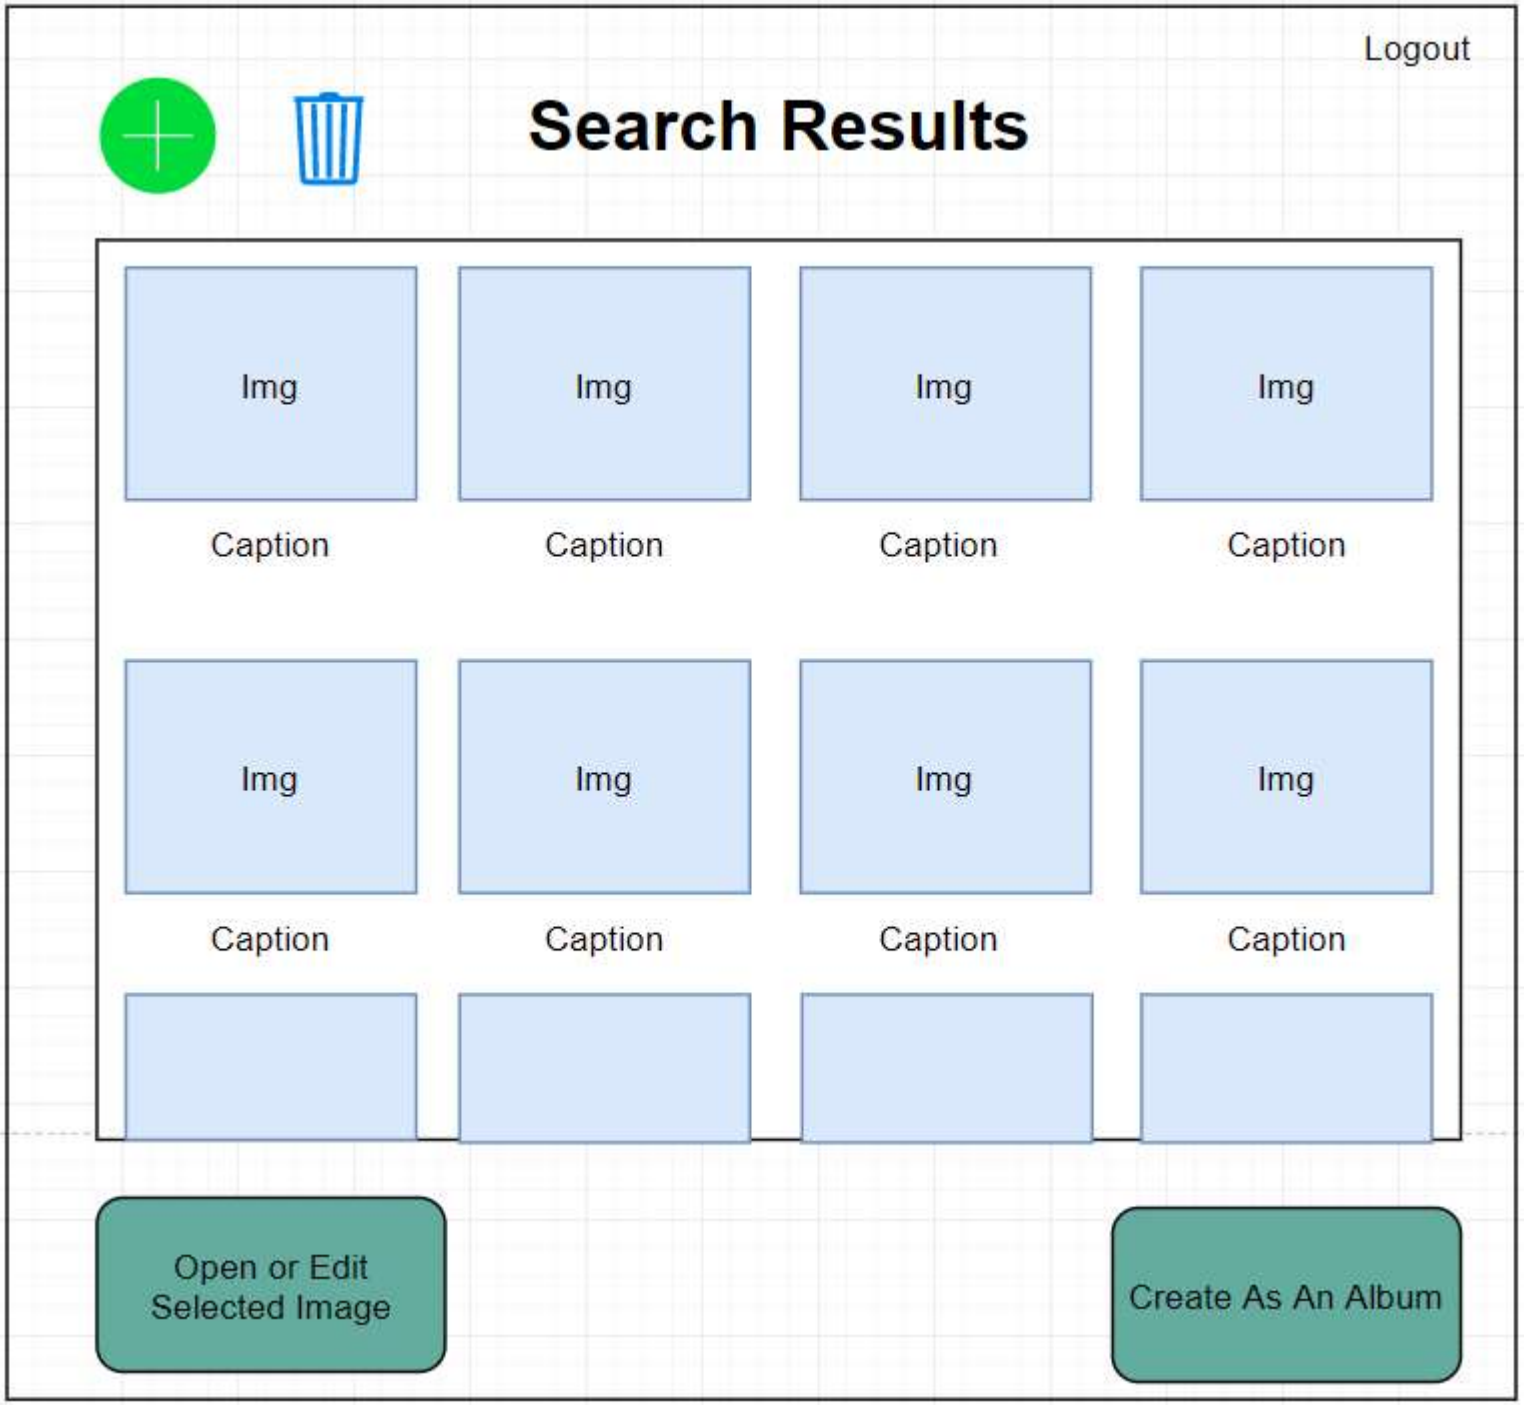
View when Creating an Album



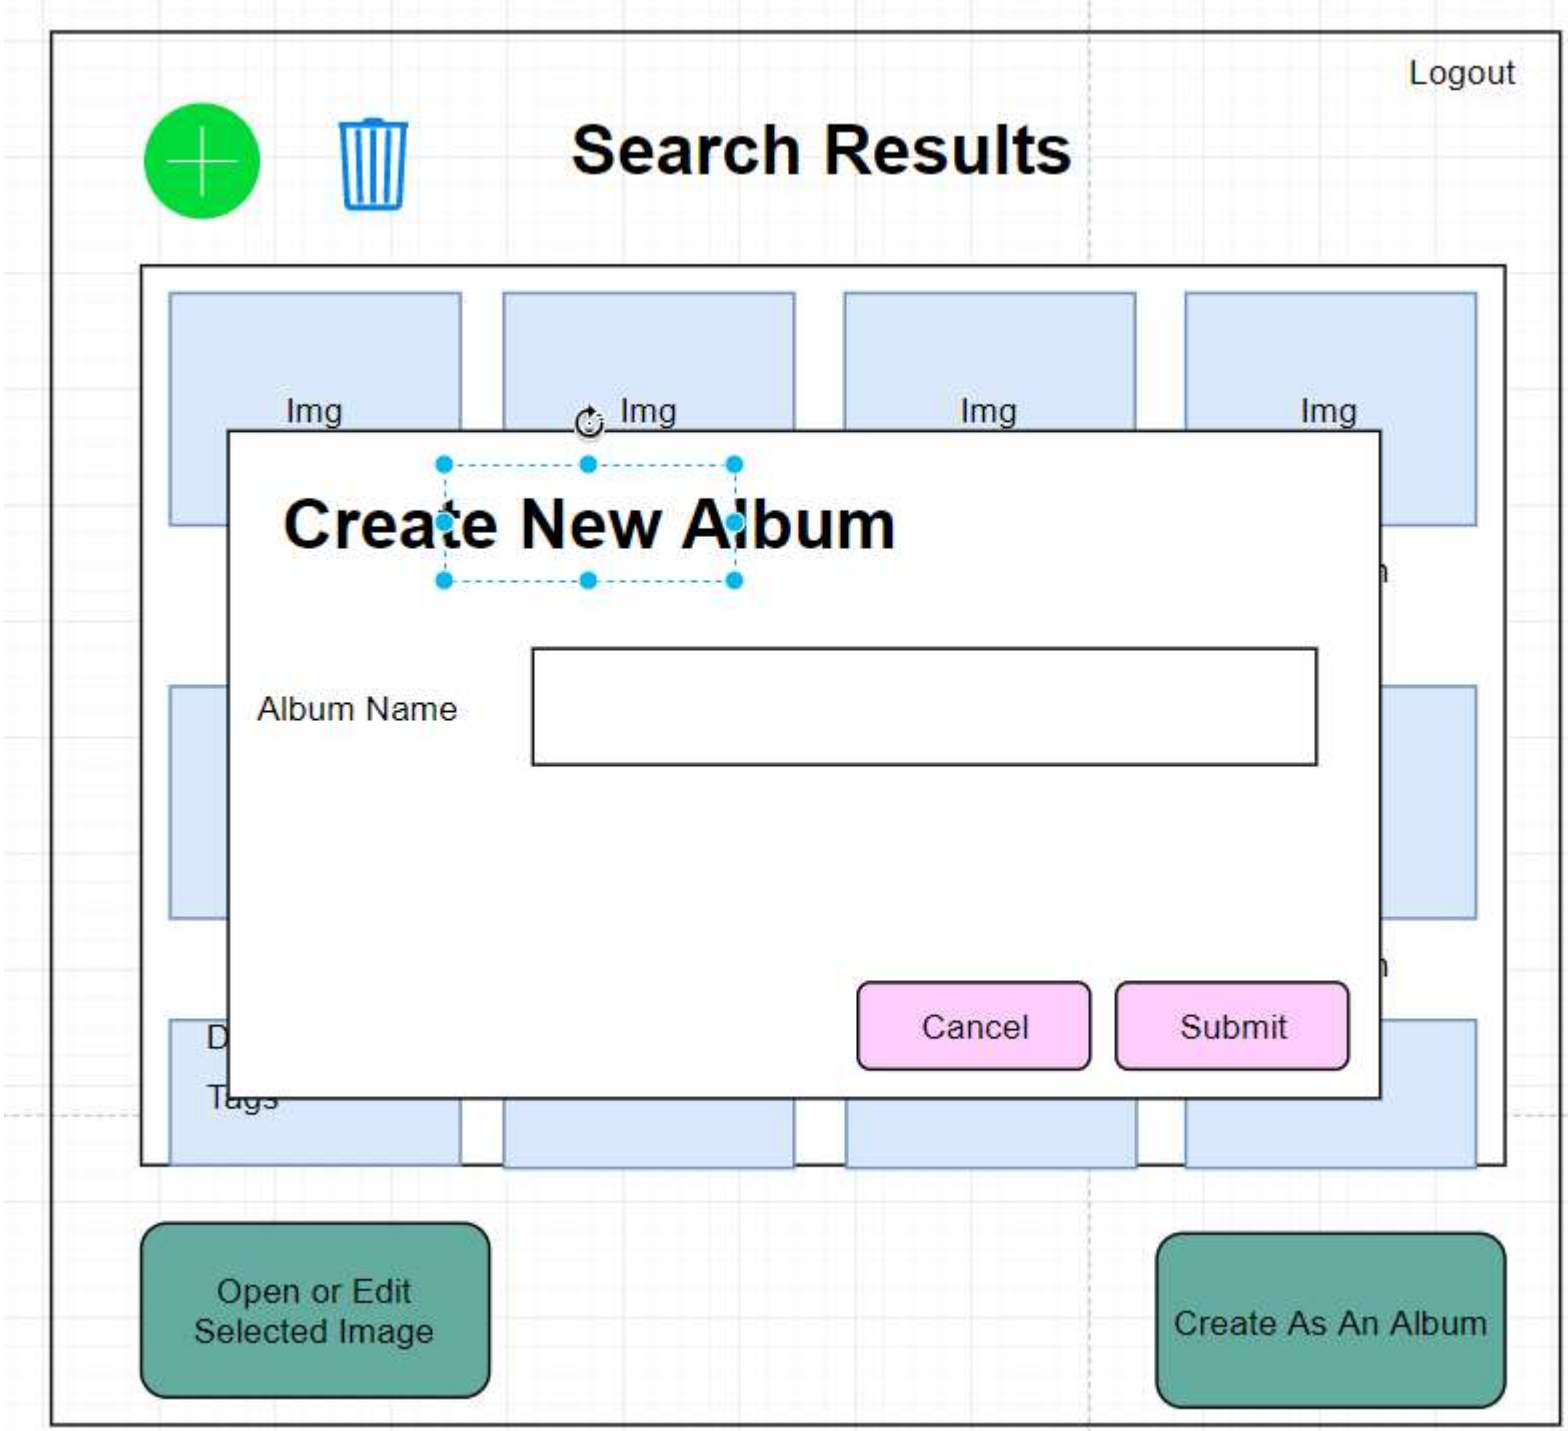
View when Searching for a specific set of images



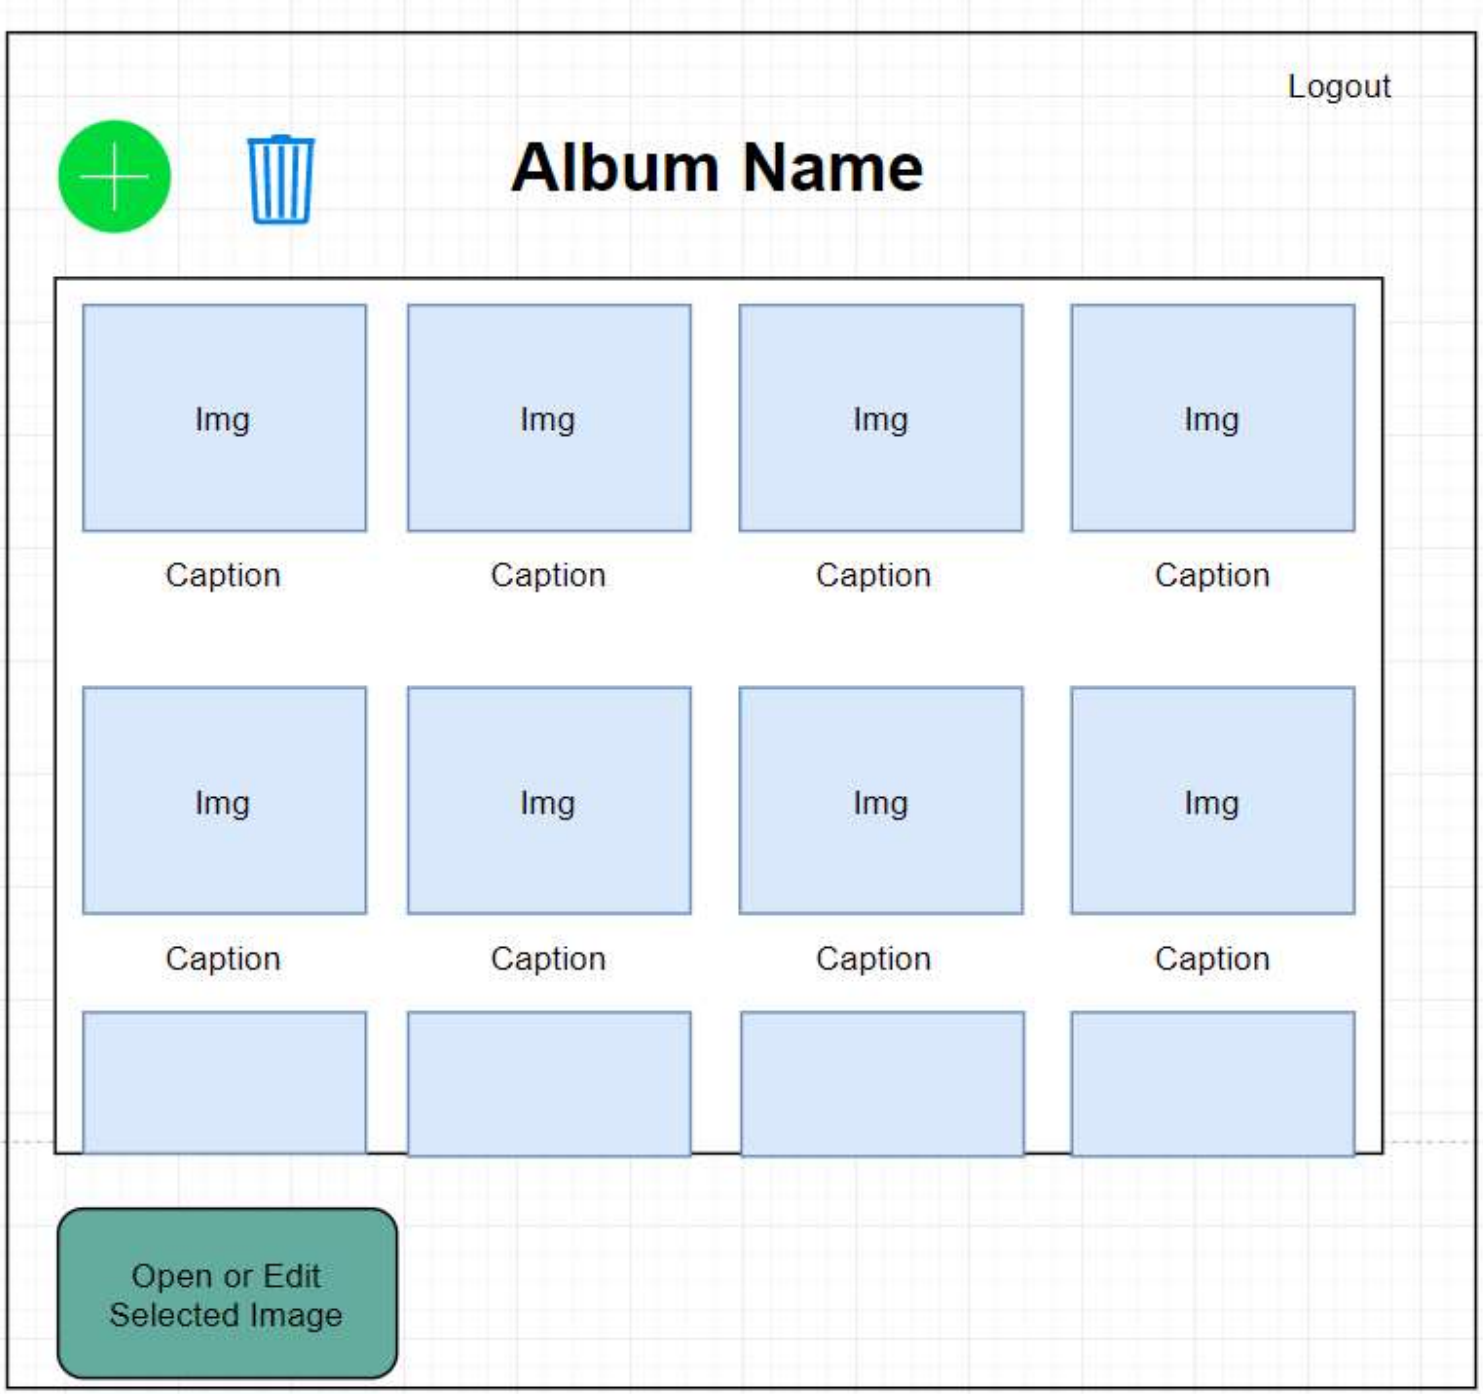
View for the search results.

“Create as an Album” will create the search results as their own permanent Album.

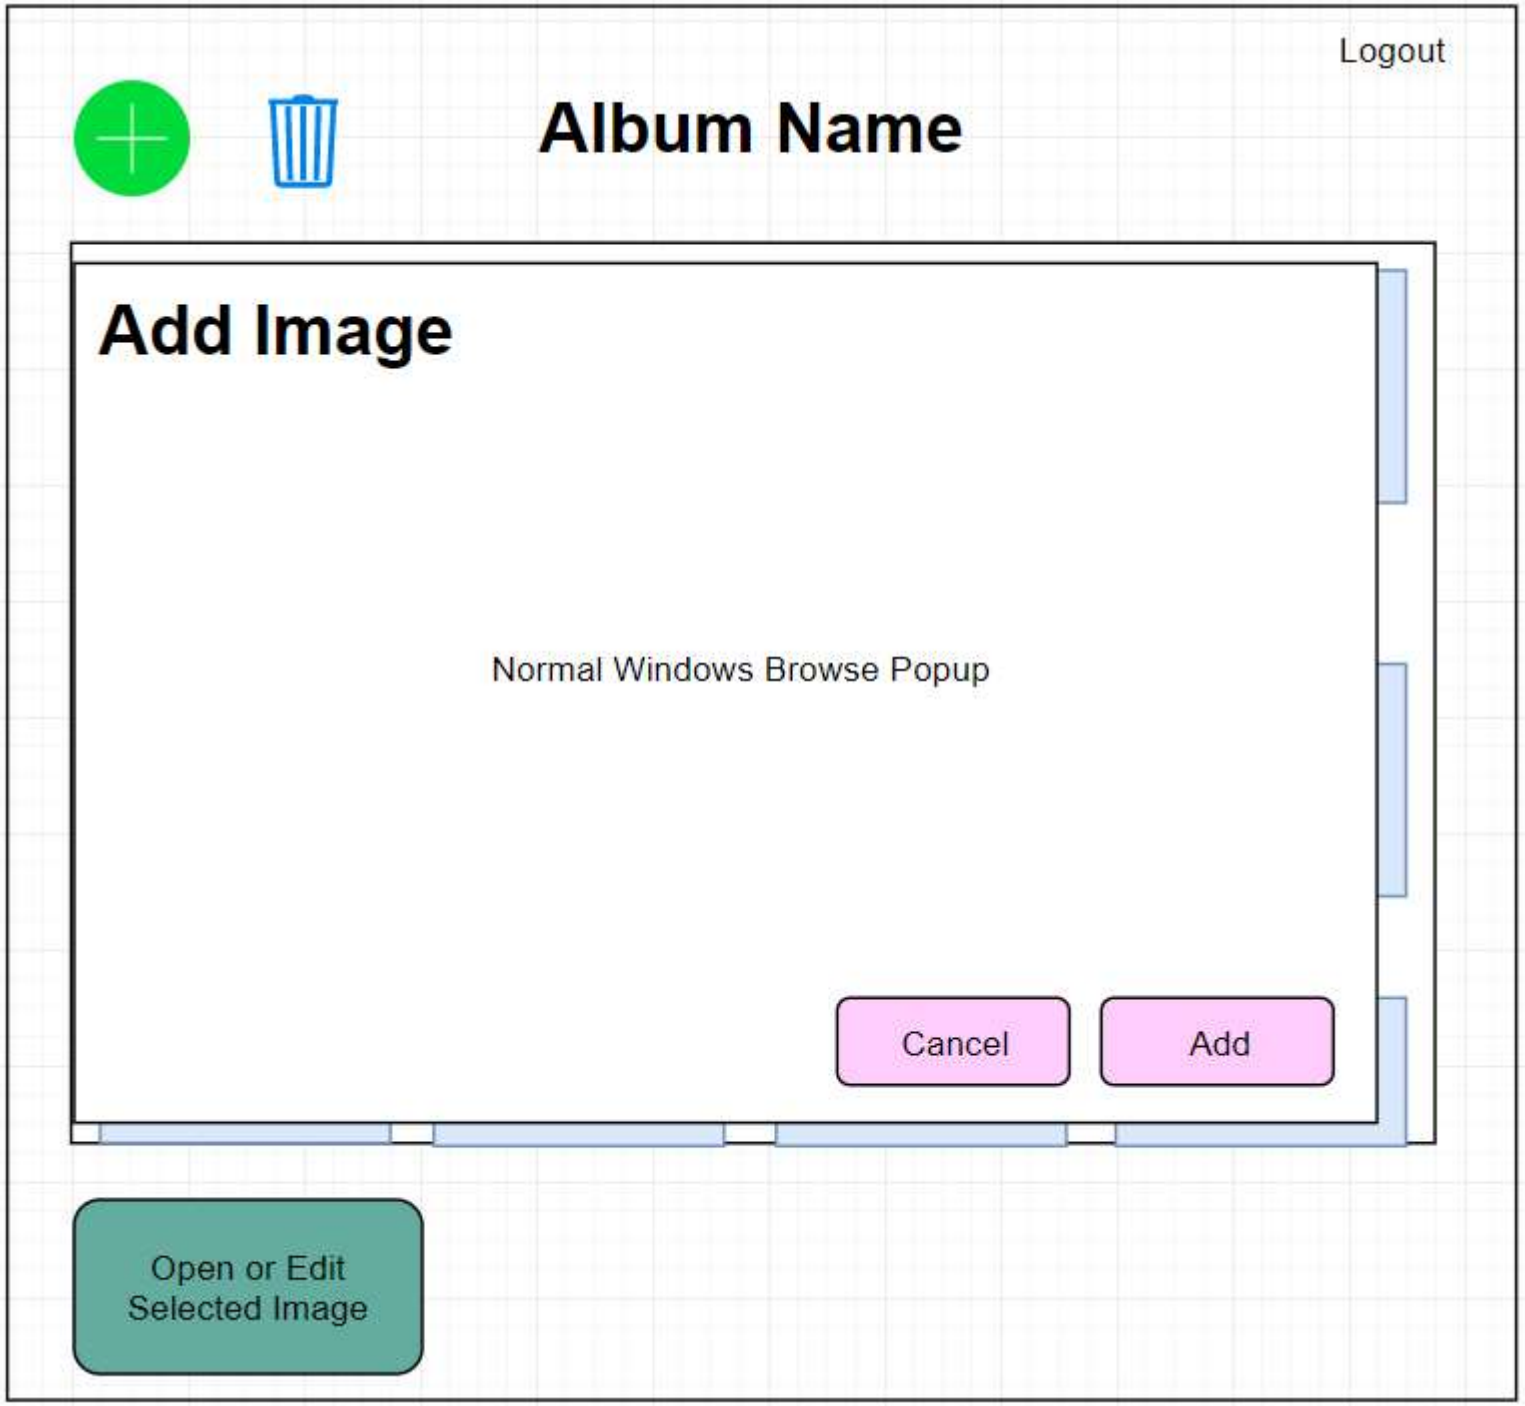
Before a permanent album is created, this view harbors a temporary Album, so you can still add and delete images before creating a permanent Album.



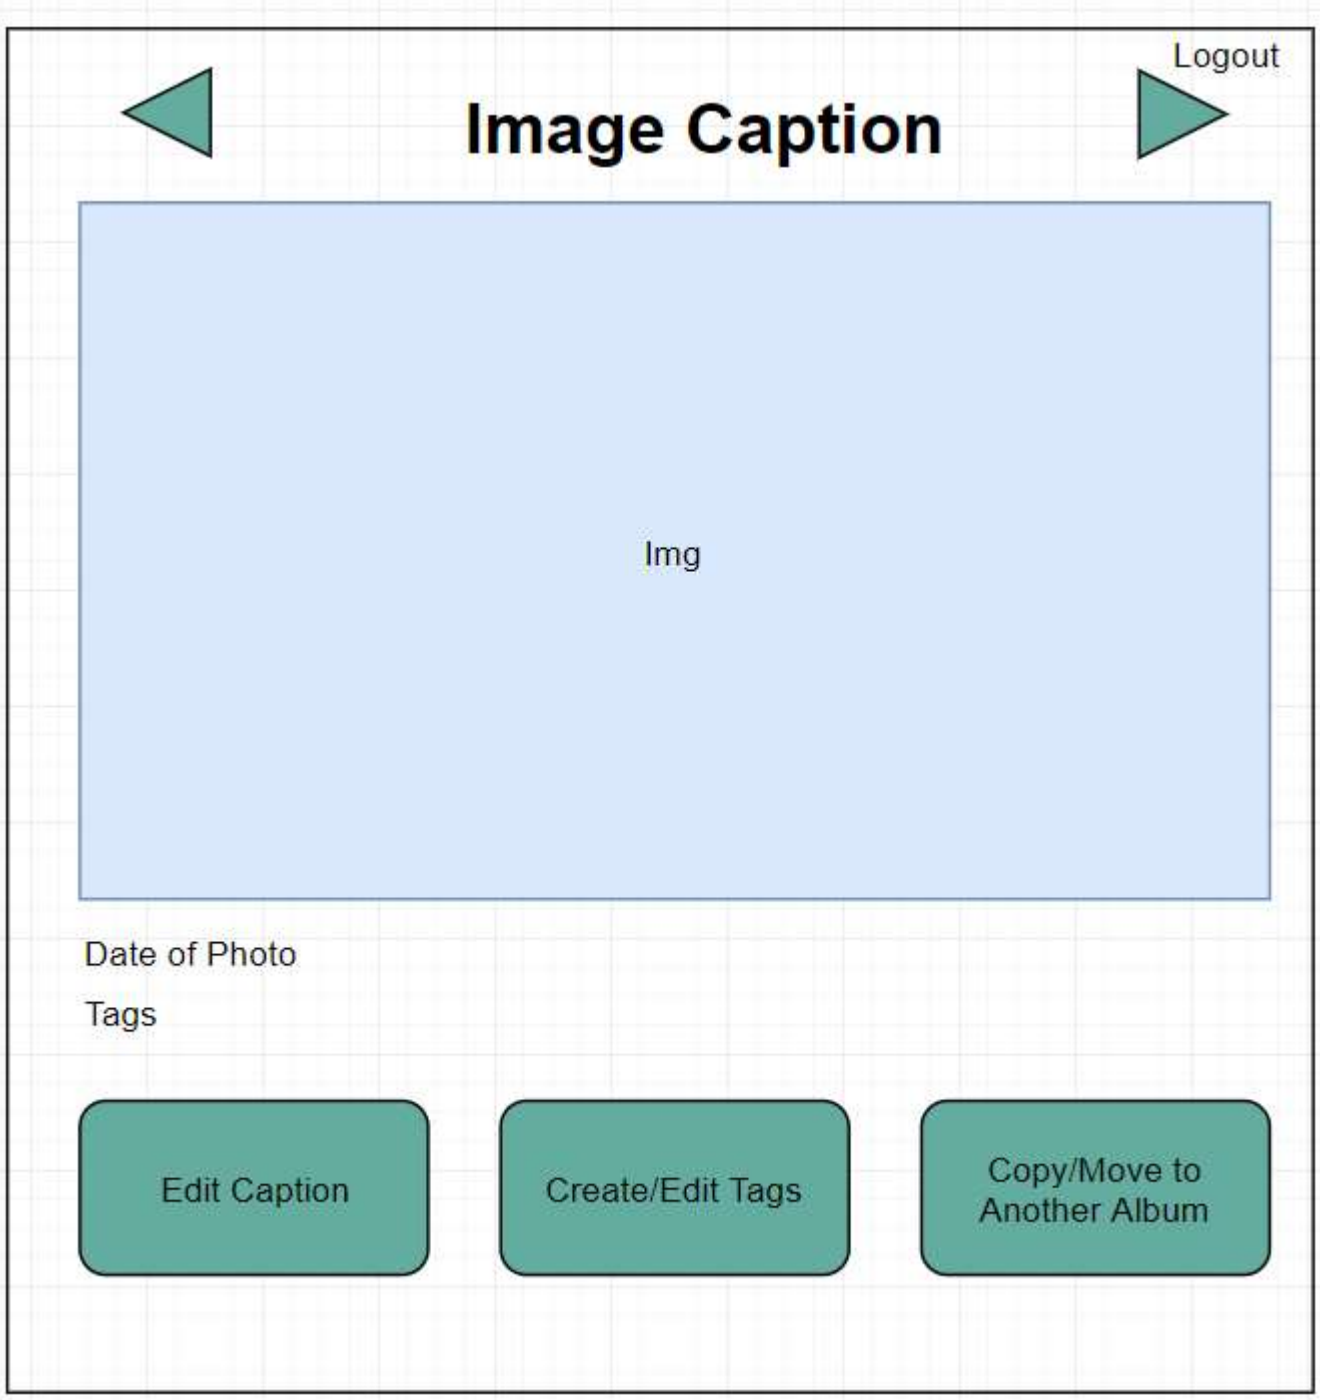
Clicking on “Create as an Album” on the previous view will create the search results into a permanent album (unless you delete it afterwards).



The view for any Album.

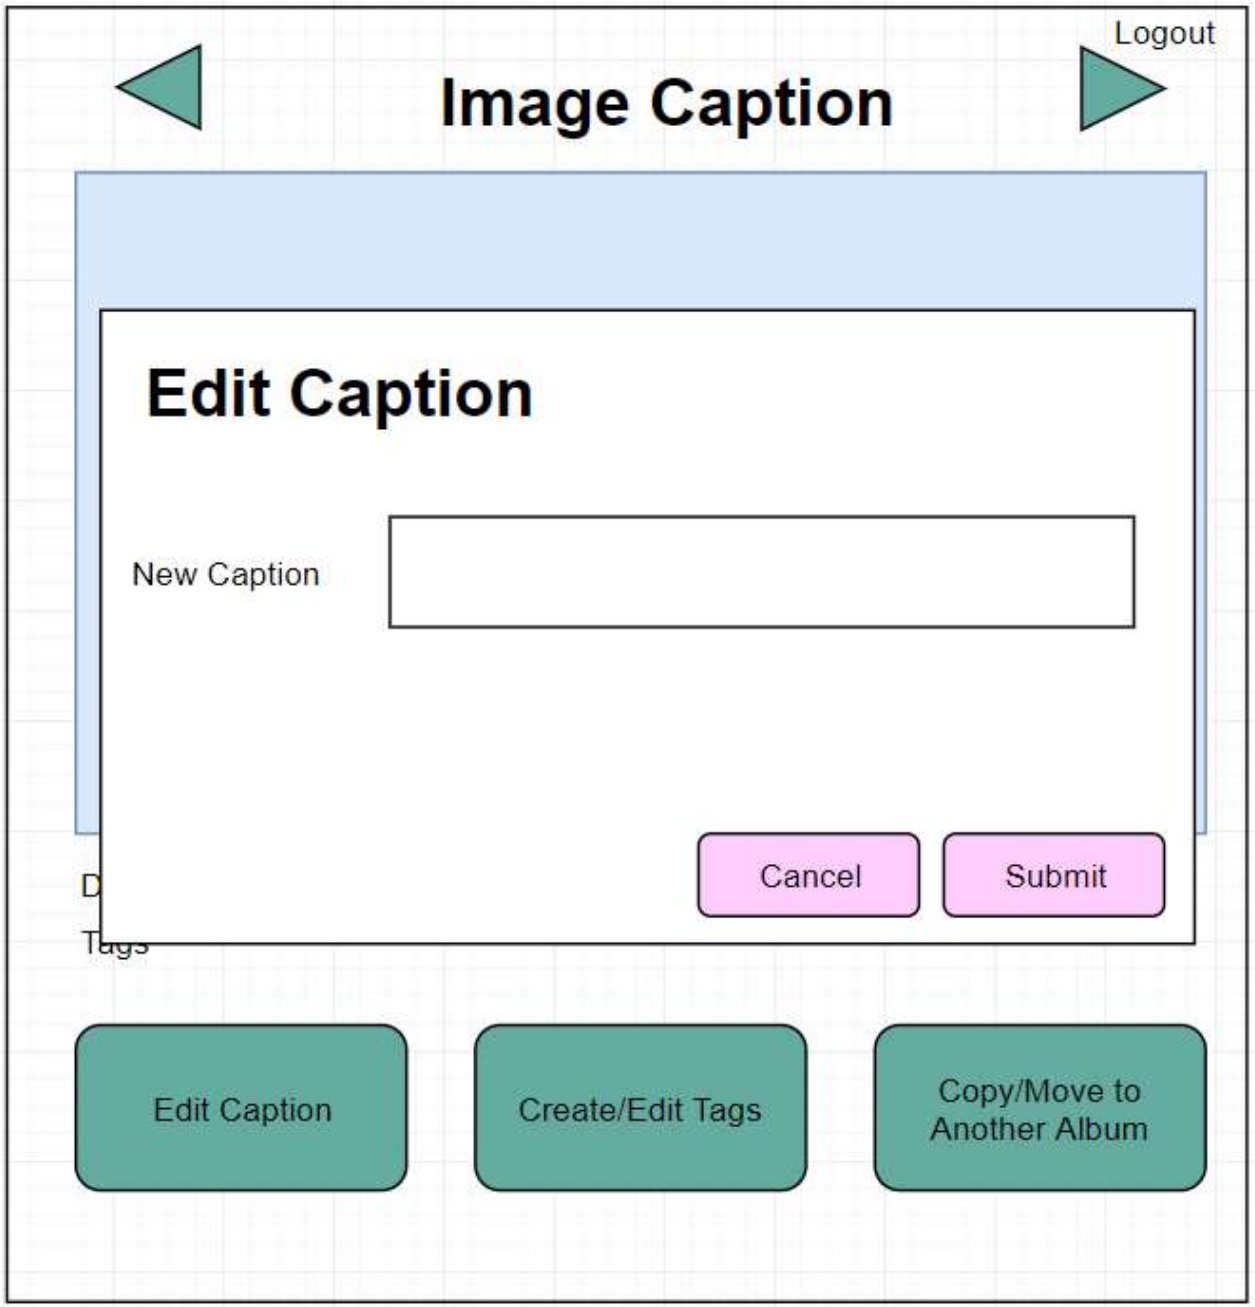


Clicking the "+" button allows you to add images from your local harddrive.

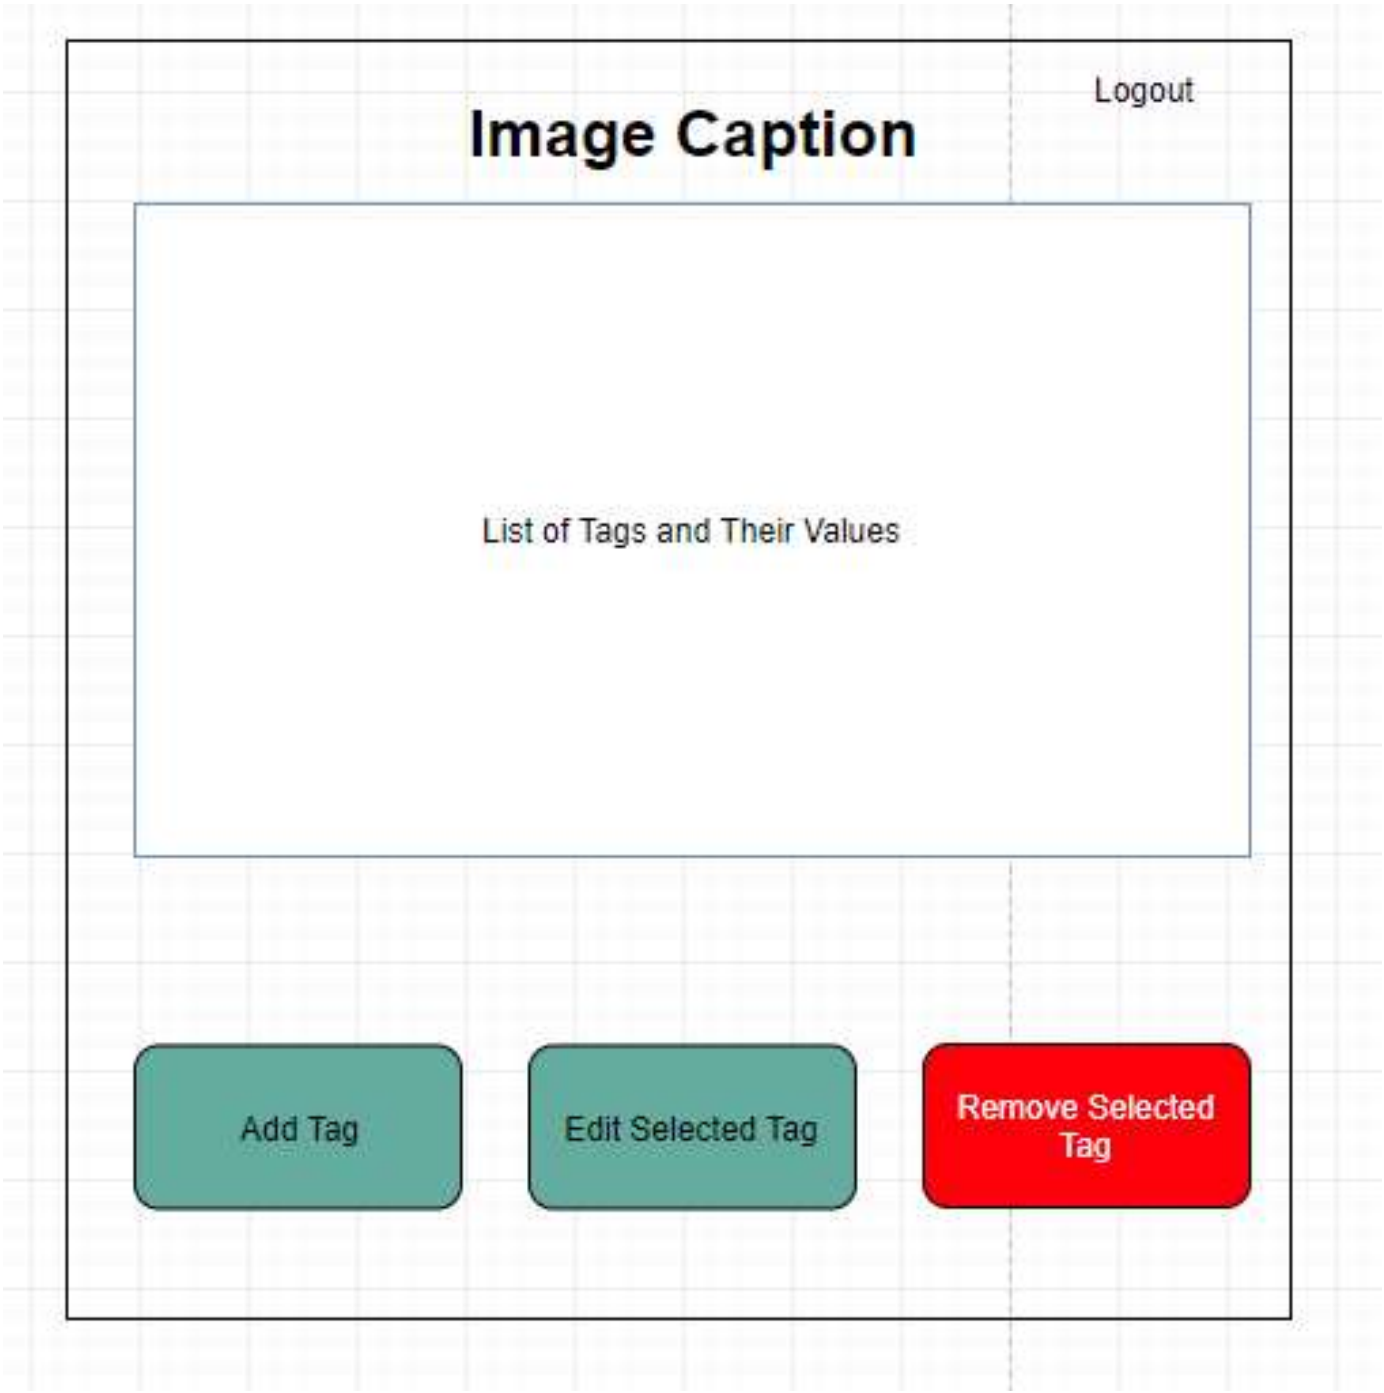


Clicking “Open or Edit Selected Image” on the previous view opens the image along side it’s date, tags, caption. It also allows for a slide show functionality.

You can also modify certain elements about the image here. Such as it’s tags, caption, and whether you want to move/copy to another Album.

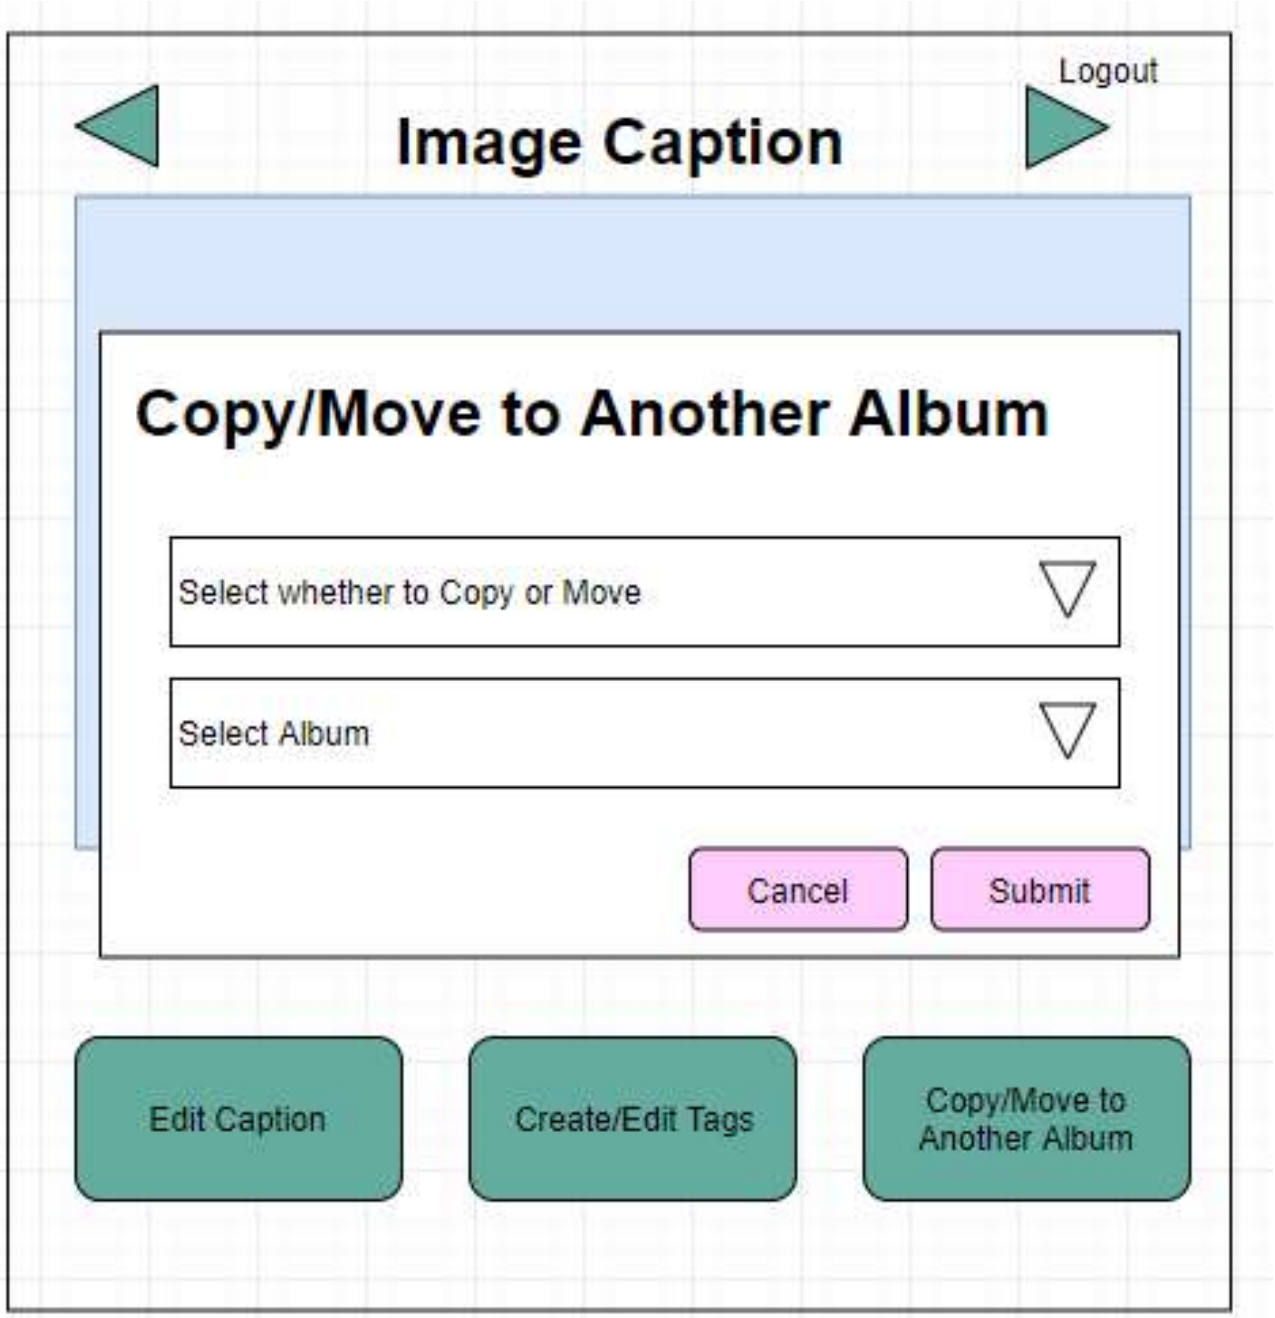


The prompt to edit the caption.



The view to see, modify, or delete tags and their respective values for a specific image.

This view appears when you click “Edit Tags” in the previous view.



The view to copy or move to another Album.

This view is rendered when you click “Copy/Move to Another Album” in the Image View (page 16).
